DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a method for dynamically replicating one or more parent nodes on a network comprising the steps of receiving a request for replicating the parent node and initiating replication of software on the parent node to a new child node and appropriately balancing network load, classified in class 709, subclass 221.
 - II. Claims 6-15, drawn to a method of obtaining a user request message, determining the fixed requirements for all existing application, parsing the user request message and acting upon user request message, classified in class 710, subclass 5.
 - III. Claims 16-22, drawn to a method for event routing in a network comprising the steps of identifying nodes capable of handling the event, determining node usage of the existing nodes and selecting the appropriate node for performing the event thereon, classified in class 709, subclass 238.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I, II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as replicating software on the parent node to a new child node; invention II has separate utility such as parsing a user request and determining appropriate action in response to the user request; and invention III has separate utility such as routing event to node capable of handling the event. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Groups II and III and the search required for Group II is not required for Groups I and III and the search required for Group III is not required for Groups I and II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
